5. Is this course designed for a specific group? Yes Who? 1st semester PN students

6. Catalog Description: ☒ Now in Print, or ☐ Proposed Below:

Fundamental medical/surgical nursing concepts are introduced. Emphasis on utilization of the nursing process to meet the practical nursing care requirements of clients. Human relations training is embedded within this course as human needs/interpersonal communication are constants in the nurse/client relationship. Course fee required. Prerequisite: Acceptance into the practical nursing program. Corequisites: NURS 1010, NURS 1101, NURS 1105. 4.8 lecture hours per week.

7. Course justification (attach sheets if needed):

Human Relations and Therapeutic Communications courses were eliminated from the curriculum in order to reduce total program credits. This was done in order to be in compliance with NLNAC accreditation requirements. In order to fulfill State requirements for human relations content the content of the cancelled courses are being incorporated into this course.

NURS 1101 and NURS 1105 are the lab and clinic portions of this course. They are '0' credit sections with the full credits given under this course number. Therefore the course description for 1100 only refers to the lecture hours per week.

8. Are library resources adequate to support this change? Yes If not, how are those resources to be acquired?

9. Are technical and other resources available? Yes If not, how are those resources to be acquired?

10. Relationship to the curriculum: Would the course fill a G.E. requirement? No If yes, which G.E. area? If it does not fill a G.E. requirement, would the course offer elective credit? Yes

11. Transferability of the course: List comparable courses at other colleges and universities:
