<td>Revise</td>
<td>BIOL 2065</td>
<td>Principles of Microbiology Lab meets for two hours twice each week for 2 credits.</td>
<td>Change to 1.5 hours twice per week for 1 credit.</td>
<td>Don Warner (main instructor) feels that students could accomplish everything they need to in two 1.5 hour sessions per week. This would reduce the lab credit by one unit. (Also, the nursing program might reconsider their dropping of microbiology as a requirement for nursing students.)</td>

<td>Revise</td>
<td>BIOL 4300</td>
<td>Molecular Biology is listed as a three-credit lecture.</td>
<td>Change to a two-credit lecture.</td>
<td>David Jones feels that the students would be better served by having less formal lecture time and having more hands-on lab time.</td>
<td>Spring 2008</td>

<tr>
<td>Revise</td>
<td>BIOL 4305</td>
<td>Molecular Biology Techniques Lab is only scheduled to meet for three hours once per week.</td>
<td>Change to two 3-hour sessions per week for two credits.</td>
<td>David Jones feels that students would benefit from more hands-on lab time in molecular biology. This change is at the request of students. The BIOL 4300/4305 combination would still total 4 credits overall but in a 2 lecture/2 lab format.</td>
