5. Is this course designed for a specific group? Yes  Who? Entering Freshmen

6. Catalog Description: ☑ Now in Print, or ☐ Proposed Below:
   XXX 1001 is an orientation course created to help students succeed in the (specific department/program covered by the course) area. This course is designed to help students set the conditions to maximize their college experience. In particular, this course will help students understand and adapt to college life and expectations, refine college level skills and abilities, create and foster social networks, and introduce them to different fields of study, degree options, and career opportunities within the (specific department/program covered by the course). 2 lecture hours per week.

7. Course justification (attach sheets if needed):
   To provide entering freshmen a framework to understand the world of college academics. This would include linking students to faculty and staff as well as to junior and senior students at the institution. This also would provide a venue for academic assessment as needed by the institution.

8. Are library resources adequate to support this change? Yes  If not, how are those resources to be acquired?

9. Are technical and other resources available? Yes  If not, how are those resources to be acquired?

10. Relationship to the curriculum: Would the course fill a G.E. requirement? ☐  If yes, which G.E. area? For Entering Freshmen  If it does not fill a G.E. requirement, would the course offer elective credit? No
