5. Is this course designed for a specific group? Yes  Who? ESOL students

6. Catalog Description: ☐ Now in Print, or ☒ Proposed Below:

   The course is designed to give students the opportunity to develop reading skills in English. Students will study beginning vocabulary, work attack skills, dictionary skills, and comprehension skills. Student will read works which are academic and non-academic in nature and develop strategies for approaching different types of reading.

7. Course justification (attach sheets if needed):
   In order to increase the presence of International Students on campus, we need a full-complement of courses for ESOL students in order to satisfy the requirements for enrollment and visa eligibility.

8. Are library resources adequate to support this change? No  If not, how are those resources to be acquired? We will propose in our next budget cycle a comprehensive list of materials which need to be added to the library in order to best serve these students and courses.

9. Are technical and other resources available? No  If not, how are those resources to be acquired?

   We will propose in our next budget cycle a comprehensive list of technology materials and equipment which need to be added to our department in order to best serve these students and courses.

10. Relationship to the curriculum: Would the course fill a G.E. requirement? No  If yes, which G.E. area?  If it does not fill a G.E. requirement, would the course offer elective credit? No

11. Transferability of the course: List comparable courses at other colleges and universities:
