   ECON – 1740 Economic History of the United States 3.00 CR
   For students seeking to fill the American Institutions requirement that must be completed by all who receive a bachelor's degree from a Utah school. Surveys the development of economic institutions and the process of material growth in the United States from colonial time to the present. A lecture course which also employs discussion, audio-visual materials and various other instructional methods. Helps students acquire a greater understanding and appreciation of our American heritage and the responsibilities of all American citizens. Prerequisite: A placement score of 17 or higher in Reading, or a successful challenge test in Reading taken at the Testing Center, or English 1470. 3 lecture hours per week.

7. Course justification (attach sheets if needed):
   The Utah System of Higher Education allows three one-semester courses to fill the statewide American Institutions requirement: HIST 1700 – American Civilization, POLS 1100 – American Government, and ECON 1740 – Economic History of the United States. We have not had the personnel to teach ECON 1740 until this year.
