5. Is this course designed for a specific group? Yes Who? Majors in Mass Comm

6. Catalog Description: □ Now in Print, or X Proposed Below:
   This intermediate course is designed for majors in the New Media track interested in how and why new social media works. Curriculum focuses on monitoring personal social media usage, gathering data, analyzing innovations and platforms and their uses in networking, marketing and disseminating information. Students will document their experiences and discoveries via personal blogs.

7. Course justification (attach sheets if needed):
   Social media has evolved beyond expectations to a level that both requires and deserves analysis. It is a catalyst for the paradigm shift in marketing and the coming demise of display and insert advertising. Mass Media graduates in New Media must be competent in recognizing social media impacts in marketing and communication, competent with fundamental social media technology and aware of its increasing applications.

8. Are library resources adequate to support this change? No If not, how are those resources to be acquired? Via Internet

9. Are technical and other resources available? Yes If not, how are those resources to be acquired?
