5. Is this course designed for a specific group? No
   Who?

6. Catalog Description: ☐ Now in Print, or ☒ Proposed Below:
   This class will teach students to describe the traits and characteristics of offenders in specific criminal cases. It will help them to apply those characteristics to factual situations where the student can determine the characteristics of an unknown suspect. 3 hours lecture per week.

7. Course justification (attach sheets if needed):
   This is an important area of criminal justice that is beginning to develop into a major emphasis in many police departments. It enables students to develop a profile of the characteristics of an offender in which there are no known suspects. This course would give our graduates a significant marketable skill.

8. Are library resources adequate to support this change? Yes
   If not, how are those resources to be acquired?

9. Are technical and other resources available? Yes
   If not, how are those resources to be acquired?

10. Relationship to the curriculum: Would the course fill a G.E. requirement? No
    If yes, which G.E. area? If it does not fill a G.E. requirement, would the course offer elective credit? Yes
