   5. Is this course designed for a specific group? Yes Who? English majors
   6. Catalog Description: ☐ Now in Print, or ☒ Proposed Below:

   Required of English majors pursuing an emphasis in Literary Studies, and recommended for other students interested in improving their enjoyment of realist and/or modernist literature. Students will engage with the work and ideas of major realist and/or modernist writers, such as Austen, Eliot, Dickens, Conrad, Woolf, Hemingway, and Faulkner. Students will be expected to read extensive amounts of work, write several critical assignments, conduct a major research project, and take at least two exams. Prerequisite: ENGL 2010 with a grade of C or better. 3 lecture hours per week.

7. Course justification (attach sheets if needed):
   We need to expand our upper-division course offerings to meet the needs of our majors. A Period/Topics course that is devoted to realism and/or modernism is an important step toward aligning our curriculum with other institutional offerings, while still fulfilling the needs of our department.

8. Are library resources adequate to support this change? Yes If not, how are those resources to be acquired?

9. Are technical and other resources available? Yes If not, how are those resources to be acquired?

10. Relationship to the curriculum: Would the course fill a G.E. requirement? No If yes, which G.E. area? If it does not fill a G.E. requirement, would the course offer elective credit? Yes

11. Transferability of the course: List comparable courses at other colleges and universities:
