5. Is this course designed for a specific group? Yes
   Who? Communication Majors and Integrated Studies with a COMM track.

6. Catalog Description: ☐ Now in Print, or ☑ Proposed Below:
   This course requires students to become well-informed about communication strategies and skills that will develop an ethical sensitivity applicable to all walks of life. The design of the course asks students to conduct an intensive examination and evaluation of how well or how poorly ethical standards are formed, articulated, applied, and defended by professionals in the field.

7. Course justification (attach sheets if needed):
   This class will not advocate particular ethical standards or standard implementation strategies; but rather, it will strive to motivate students to critically and analytically think about ethical standards that are germane to their personal and future professional lives, to consider reasons why current ethical standards are as they are, and to evaluate whether current standards are sufficient, workable, acceptable, and understood by those using such strategies.

8. Are library resources adequate to support this change? Yes
   If not, how are those resources to be acquired?

9. Are technical and other resources available? Yes
   If not, how are those resources to be acquired?

10. Relationship to the curriculum: Would the course fill a G.E. requirement? No
    If yes, which G.E. area? If it does not fill a G.E. requirement, would the course offer elective credit? Yes
