6. Catalog Description: □ Now in Print, or □ Proposed Below:
   This course is designed to address the connection between interpersonal communication and the needs of small groups. The course explores how interpersonal communication dynamics affect and are changed by small group contexts, recognizing that the small group environment is unique in its complexity and is entirely dependent upon skilled application of interpersonal theories, concepts, and behaviors, both verbal and nonverbal. The course content is particularly useful for upper division students pursuing undergraduate degrees in Communication with an emphasis in Interpersonal/Small Group Communication, Organizational Communication, or Leadership. 3 lecture hours per week.
7. Course justification (attach sheets if needed):
   The course is needed immediately for students pursuing an undergraduate degree in our new degree-completion emphasis. It obviates the need for an undergraduate prerequisite in this subject area and takes an upper-division approach to the subject matter, consistent with the level of instruction throughout this new emphasis. However, we wish to have the option of teaching the course as an elective for our daytime programs in the future as well.
8. Are library resources adequate to support this change? Yes
   If not, how are those resources to be acquired?
9. Are technical and other resources available? Yes
   If not, how are those resources to be acquired?
10. Relationship to the curriculum: Would the course fill a G.E. requirement? No
    If yes, which G.E. area? If it does not fill a G.E. requirement, would the course offer elective credit? Yes
